“Hollow Moon, or From Where The Bells Toll” by Dennis Crenshaw is presently the most popular web page on Onelight.com

Prior to this for many years, Leslee Dru Browning’s “Observations Reported While Astral Traveling to Vatican City in Rome” was the most popular page

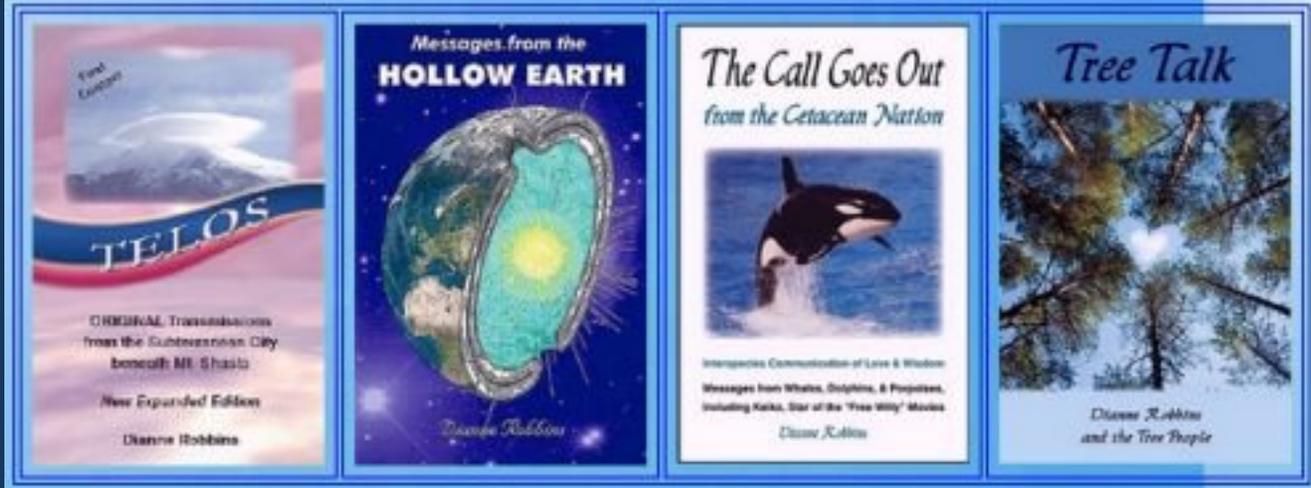

My meeting with Dennis Crenshaw in the Summer of 1994 lead to the following:

an Introduction to Dianne Robbins and eventually illustrating her 3 books:

“Telos”, “Messages from The Hollow Earth”, “The Call Goes Out from the Cetacean Nation”

Her popular books, some published in several different languages, can be found in ebook and printed form at www.diannerobbins.com

Dianne Robbins presently lives near the mountain Mt. Shasta where she meditates on her home of Telos inside Onelight.com has since become one of the major influences on the internet in encouraging followers of the Hollow Earth Theory through out the world, giving further credence to their inner belief and inner state of 'knowing' that the Earth is not solid but indeed hollow, containing many often illuminated living species. That this today is the time where the surface population is being re-introduced again to the Hollow Earth Theory which is soon(?)to become the new foundation in the prevailing educational system.

I believe we can thank Dennis Crenshaw as well as his many associates and contacts over the years in making the Hollow Earth a subject for those seriously committed in the profound study of true enlightened information and its source: the Interior of this wonderful planet we reside upon.
